Newfoundland is to have a change of government.

Provincial bonspiel at Calgary will commence on Monday, January 19.

Splendid position for girl or woman. Housework. Highest wages. Apply to Mrs. A. A. Ballachey, High River.

Ten carloads of cattle are waiting here for cars to take them to the north country where feed is plentiful.

Every freight passing south has its quota of cars loaded with feed destined for the stricken Cardston district.

Hundreds of head of stock are continually passing through the village on their way to northern feeding quarters.

Everyone should make it a point to be present at the Hard Times Ball on Friday night at the Community Theatre.

There will be a Calico Ball held in the I.O.O.F. hall on December 5th. Watch for advertising matter in this paper.

Lt.-Col J. D. Reginald Stewart, O.B.E., of Calgary, was recently gazetted as judge of the district court of the Acadia district.

The school teachers of Calgary have requested of the school board an increase in salary which will total about $100,000.

Mrs. O. V. Hickman, of Reid Hill, is in the Holy Cross Hospital, Calgary, recovering from an operation for appendicitis, and is getting along nicely.

We see that over in France a blizzard is raging and with such severity that transportation is seriously delayed. The weather man shows no partiality.

"Mickey," the attraction at the Community Theatre, on Thursday evening, is a feature play, starring Mabel Normand, that has met with vociferous approval wherever shown. Don't miss it.

After having shaped the curling rink into perfect condition, the chinook came along and spoiled it completely, but most of the curlers are enjoying the warm weather more than the interrupted sport.

The dance held in the I.O.O.F. hall on Armistice night was a success despite the cold weather and bad roads. There was quite a crowd present and everyone enjoyed the antics of the jazz fiend who handled the bass drum and its accoutrements.

Mrs. Lars Hanson, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. O. Anderson, left for Calgary on Thursday evening where she will undergo an operation for her eye at the Holy Cross Hospital. We hope the operation is successful.

Mr. S. D. Bice, from west of town, has leased the Palace Livery Barn and will keep the same open all winter with several driving teams always on hand for use when snow makes the roads impossible for auto travel.

The roads have become slippery propositions. Apparently there was not more than two inches of frost in the ground and the chinook has drawn it all out, leaving a messy surface that is not nice to encounter with horse or machine.

Mr. P. E. Fleming, of Weiser, Idaho, was in town on Monday on a short business trip. Mr. Weiser owns a quarter section near the Union Jack School House, where he resided for 13 years. He said, when he left Idaho, a week ago, every one in his district was engaged in picking a bumper crop of apples, and although he is pretty well satisfied with his present location, he says he never expects to see anywhere broad rolling acres of wheat the equal of those produced in this district.

The Home Grain Co. have secured the property between their elevator and the stock yard, where they intend moving the tanks of the Farmers' Oil Co., lately purchased. It was formerly intended to place these on the property opposite their elevator. There has been some delay in the moving of the tanks owing to the same not having been emptied as soon as was expected, but the Grain Co. now hope to have the business going in a week or so and with a complete stock of Wm. Penn lubricants.

VULCAN LOCALS.

Your Christmas Ad Space Should Be Arranged For Now.

The wife of Lewis Williams, mayor of High River, is seriously ill at present and no hope is held for her recovery.

Some one says it is worth a few weeks of more severe weather to experience the glorious chinook which is now blessing this district.

The province of Alberta bought bonds to the extent of $10,250,000 and of that amount the city of Calgary bought over $5,000,000.

The success of the Victory Loan is due largely to the effective use of printers' ink. It even pays the nation to advertise in the newspapers.

Have your tires repaired or retreaded now, while your car is laid up. Save 10 per cent on the cost of all repair work. The Vulcan-izers, General Service Garage.

President Wilson has threatened to pocket the Peace Treaty if it contains Senator Lodge's reservations. Meanwhile all of Europe awaits the pleasure of these noble senators of the Lodge type.

The Toronto Globe rays in an editorial about the Farmers' Federal party, that the forces of reaction look upon the Farmers' party as the deadliest enemy privilege has even had to face in Canada.

The sale of Victory Bonds this year goes to show conclusively that a mistake was made that former Victory Bond issues were not taxed. Despite the tax this year, the issue was oversubscribed by $373,000,000.

The Child Welfare lectures at High River are very interesting and when they come to Vulcan every person should make it a point to hear what Mr. Bishop has to say on one of the most vital subjects of the day.

You are invited to an Oyster Supper and Social at Brant, on the evening of November 27, in the Brant Hotel. Bring your friends along. The roads to and from Vulcan are drying up quickly and motoring is possible on almost all the trails.

During the months of November and December, we will make a 10 per cent reduction on retreads, provided delivery of same is taken within one week after completion. Now is the time to let "Bill Fix It." The Vulcan-izers, General Service Garage.

Alex. Thompson, of High River, will sell by public auction, without reserve, Mr. Peter Sorkilmo's outfit of cattle, consisting of 86 head. Of these, about 40 head rising two and three years, heifers and steers are beef. Sale will take place on old Robt. Shaw farm, 2 1/2 miles south-east of High River, Thursday, November 27.

POULTRY ASSOCIATION FOR VULCAN DISTRICT

At a meeting held in Vulcan on Friday, the 14th inst., at which many poultry enthusiasts were present, an association, to be known as the Vulcan District Poultry and Pet Stock Association was formed. The object of this association is to encourage and develop the poultry industry in the district through shows, exhibitions and competitions, and by association of those interested in the industry to bring about better facilities for marketing the products. The association starts off with an enrolled paid membership of close to fifty, with prospects of a largely increased number when its existence and objects are better known. The conduct of its affairs is in good hands, the officers being: honorary president, D. H. Galbraith; president, D. L. Sloan; vice-presidents, E. M. Clark and P. Perry; secretary-treasurer, J. A. Lindsay; directors, Mesdames Moss, Martin and Miss Cole; Messrs. R. J. Adams, E. J. Charters, C. M. Gardner, J. T. M. Hughes, A. Kitto, J. G. Rowe, A. H. Tharlie and N. Young. The annual fee is one dollar and the secretary-treasurer will be glad to receive applications for membership and to further explain the objects of the association. A general meeting will be held at the store of the Lindsay Hardware Company, Vulcan, on Saturday, the 29th inst. at 2:30 p.m. to confirm and adopt a constitution which will be submitted by the directors and to discuss the holding of a winter show.

VULCAN SUBSCRIBES

$50,850 TO 1919 LOAN

A CIRCULATING LIBRARY

We announced in our last issue that Mr. E. J. Charters, of the Co-Operative Company is going to secure a circulating library for the use of the community and the same will probably be here the latter part of the week.

These libraries are collections of books which are sent from one community to another, maintained by the Provincial University, and are free of all charge except the cost of transportation. The libraries are made up of the best popular books in England, for adults and children. About two-thirds of the library consists of fiction, the remaining one-third of general literature, including essays, poetry, history, travel, biography, art and science. These libraries are primarily intended for farming communities and villages not enjoying public library privileges. When a library has been read by the community it will be returned and another sent to replace it. The books are loaned without charge, but unless freight charges are otherwise provided for, small contributions may be received from borrowers who sufficiently appreciate the service to help defray the slight cost incurred this way. However, no obligation is placed upon the borrower, for Mr. Charters is willing to take the responsibility for the entire venture. One set of books cannot be kept in one community longer than four months, so you should get what you wish to read early.

CURLING EVENTS AND NEWS

The president vs. vice-president contest on the local rinks came to a close on Friday evening last when the final games were played and the result was decidedly in favor of the vice-president teams who won out by the score of 75 to 56. The results of the individual games were as follows:

President	Vice-President
Flood 8	vs. Wolf 11
Grant 7	vs. Hall 17
Spooner 8	vs. Torgerson 15
Reeves 14	vs. Whitcher 9
Lebow 11	vs. Anderson 9
Charters 9	vs. Jones 14

The games cost the losers 75 cents each and the winners 25 cents each, which money is to be devoted towards the purchase of prizes for the forthcoming games.

SQUARE DRAW GAMES

The Square Draw contest is now on and The Advocate will print each week a list of the contestants for the coming week. The following is the draw for the week beginning the 24th inst. Whitcher vs. Anderson and Charters vs. Hall; 25th, Flood vs. Jones and Grant vs. Lebow; 26th, Hall vs. Reeves and Spooner vs. Wolf; 27th, Torgerson vs. Anderson and Whitcher vs. Flood; 28th, Charters vs. Jones and Lebow vs. Wolf; 29th, Grant vs. Reeves and Hall vs. Spooner.

CURLING NOTES

All games begin at 7:30 o'clock sharp.

Some seating arrangement should be supplied for those wishing to witness the contests. Don't let the ladies remain standing.

The "Harmony Four" state that they have not as yet "struck their stride," but will be in at the finish. Business partners will clash in the coming week's contest. No leniency will be shown on this account and betting is barred.

Skip Reeves' team is there in quality and quantity. For size and avoirdupois they have them all beat.

Torgerson was pretty happy over his defeat of Spooner. Some of the draws for the coming week are the same as were played in the president-vice-president matches of last week, and opportunity will be thus given for evening up.

Jack Thompson, auctioneer has been instructed to sell at public auction, horses, cows, and farm implements, the property of Mr. Wilfred J. B. Ball, on the south-west 1/4 of Sec. 35-20-25, 11 miles east, and 9 miles north of Blackie, on Thursday, December 4. Terms will be given at this sale.

Despite Unfavorable Circumstances District Makes a Remarkable Effort.

When the Victory Loan closed on Saturday night, Vulcan district had contributed $50,850, which sum, although it is $24,150 less than the allotted quota, is considered a remarkably good showing, by the local Loan committee. In the first place the $75,000 allotment was a ridiculous mistake on the part of some one not conversant with the crop conditions of the district and the handicap under which it was laboring. It was thought that if $25,000 was obtained, Vulcan would have done her part toward making the Loan a success; and then the bad weather which prevailed during the entire period of the Loan drive was another discouraging factor that had to be met and overcome by the canvassers whose jobs were none to be envied. Yet, in spite of these handicaps, Vulcan came through with over fifty thousand dollars, which is sufficient material evidence of the loyalty of the citizens of a district that is actually hard up, to warrant a pat on the back. Nothing short of a miracle could have produced the entire quota and miracles are matters of past decades. The sum obtained represents hard work by every member of the committee and the canvassers, the loyalty of a distressed community and the widow's mite is always more acceptable than the rich man's millions. So rest comfortably in the knowledge that Vulcan did her bit, to the uttermost of her ability, even though she didn't go over the top.

ELEVATOR BUSINESS

The elevators of Vulcan have been receiving their season's crop of wheat but the same is the smallest on hand at this time in many years. There are at present about 90,000 bushels of wheat already stored in the three elevators here receiving the same and about 40,000 more bushels is all that is further expected, making a total of about 130,000 bushels for the season at this point. Last year was also considered a poor year, but about 300,000 bushels found their way into the local elevators. The oats proposition now seems to be a serious outlook and a big shortage is expected with consequent abnormally high prices. Seed oats are now hard to get, and with the government grabbing up all that is in sight, the matter of the general supply is a difficult one to handle. This result is largely due to the frosting of the grain in localities where the crop was prolific, which, coming unexpectedly, has caused alarm in the possible supply of desirable seed grain for the farmers. Farmers will do wisely by looking after their wants in seed oats at once.

CLEAN THE FURNACE—SOOT WASTES HEAT

Soot has an important bearing on the conservation of heat. While much has been said and written regarding the necessity for economy of fuel, this question of soot, equally important from the householder's standpoint, has been rather overlooked. Since the coal supply is limited, it is absolutely essential that the maximum quantity of heat obtainable from the fuel be utilized. An examination of many heating systems shows that considerable quantities of soot have been permitted to remain deposited on the interior surfaces of hot-water furnaces, preventing the heating gases from the fire-pot from accomplishing their duty of imparting the ultimate amount of heat energy to raise the temperature of the water in the boiler.

The amount of the present Victory Loan to be issued is $300,000,000, but, as in the case of previous loans, subscriptions in excess of the stipulated amount will doubtless be accepted. General conditions warrant the expectation that the sum subscribed will equal the subscriptions to the loan of 1918, which amounted to $689,000,000.

NOTES ABOUT NURSING

Recently we had the pleasure of reading again the life of Florence Nightingale, and also her publication entitled "Notes on Nursing, what it is, and what it is not." In this work she gives the world, in a clear and vigorous manner, the substance of all that knowledge of nursing, which she acquired. The chief duty of a nurse, she says, is to keep the air which the patient breathes as pure as the external air, but without chilling him. She dwells forcibly upon the necessity and wonderful curative power of perfect cleanliness and bright light. Disease, she says, is not an evil, but a blessing; it is a reparative process—the effort of nature to get rid of something hostile to life. The chief cause of disease is the inhaling of poisonous air. Referring to the death of children, impious cant so often employed to console bereaved parents, that the death of children is a "mysterious dispensation of Providence," she says, no such thing. Children perish because they are packed into unventilated schoolrooms, and sleep at night in unventilated dormitories. An extraordinary fallacy is the dread of night air. What air can we breathe at night but night air? The choice is between pure night air from without and foul night air from within, most people prefer the latter—an unaccountable choice. An open window can never hurt one. Better shut the windows all day than all night.

Enter some of our schools and homes and there emanates a poisonous air that fairly stifles. Invariably all the windows are closed and without proper ventilation the air within the room becomes stifling. More heed should be paid to the proper ventilation of our homes and schools, and instead of little, feeble washed-out rags, we would have children that would develop into towers of physical vigor, healthy to the core.

J. D. McGregor, the big stockman, of Brandon, speaking at the convention of the Western Canada Livestock Union at Victoria, B.C. last week, addressed a few words in behalf of H.C. of L. Commissioner O'Connor, who he said was the rankest kind of a four-flusher, who had unsettled the whole livestock conditions of Canada. He objected to the statement that farmers were profiteers for in practically everything they have to sell the price is fixed by the government.

LIQUOR SITUATION

That the signing of the present prohibition legislation by the governor-general of Canada will not have any effect on the present liquor situation in Canada, is the opinion of Major D. L. Redman, M.P. Major Redman states that there can be no change; that is, the war time measure will not be lifted until the peace treaty is finally signed. As the situation stands at present, there will be no change until peace has been formally concluded with Turkey and Bulgaria. It was thought by many that when the governor-general signed the bill just passed by the government, that the war measure would be automatically suspended and the province would revert to the regulation which allow the shipment of liquor from other provinces. Confirmation of this opinion is expected from Ottawa within the next few days.

PLAYING WITH MATCHES

During September four children were burned to death, each as a result of playing with matches. Regrets are of no avail. Children are fascinated by fire, and unless matches are kept where children cannot get at them, many more tragic deaths will occur. These were other people's children: yours may be next.

SOMEBODY WAS CARELESS

A gasoline lamp in use in a creamery at Moose Horn Manitoba, exploded and half the village was wiped out by fire, causing a loss of $100,000. Gasoline lamps are a serious fire hazard when they are not kept thoroughly clean. The cleanliness depends upon the carefulness of the human element and no one can afford to invite a fire by lack of care.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

In the opinion of many of our readers, the merchant is under a moral obligation to inform the public each week of market prices from week to week, that savings may be made by buying at the right time. Read our advertising columns carefully and thus keep in touch with the bargains to be obtained from the merchants who advertise in this paper. Advertised stores or products are almost always good.

The feed situation in the Cardston and other districts is reported to be in a very serious condition. There has been a great dearth of hay or green feed and the pasture is now covered with much snow. Cattle and horses are reported as dying in large numbers and only prompt action can save the situation.

Twenty-seven Austrians and Hungarians who sought to settle in the Okanagan Valley last week were refused permission to stop at any point in the district by an organized band of returned veterans who guarded the gang plank of the Okanagan steamers when they stopped. The Austrians returned to Saskatchewan.

A short time ago the press of Britain and Canada contained an item to the effect that the writer of the item saw twenty-three British soldiers married to German women in Cologne Cathedral. The chief priest of that cathedral in answer to a query says that not a single such marriage has taken place, and thus we have another liar run to earth.

Among the smaller coal mines in the Lethbridge district it is said that 500,000 tons of slack coal are wasted every year. This is a state of affairs that might very well engage the attention of the authorities. Slack coal is a fine heating agent, properly used. To waste it in these times of real fuel need seems criminal.

Premier Drury called upon the Convention of Women's Institutes at Toronto last week and assured them that his government would advocate the greatest possible freedom for women in the province. He delighted the members by his sympathetic attitude toward the Institute.

The farmers of four provinces have decided to unite in political action in the next federal election. The two old parties will have hard sledding from now on if the farmers are unanimous.

The man who would not fight for his country in times of stress is not worthy of the franchise, and that's why the new Election Act says that military defaulters will be denied the franchise.

Raids on industrial workers of the world and other radical organizations has begun in the States as a result of the killing of five soldiers at Centralia and scores will be deported to the land of their birth.

Kindersley farmers nominated a candidate for the Motherwell vacancy in the Saskatchewan legislature and as a result, the Liberals refused to put up a candidate and the farmer was elected by acclamation. The farmers have things coming their way all right.

Cochrane, where a by-election was recently held, is purely a rural constituency, and in the election of 1917, 1099 votes were cast. The total in Little Bow last election was 1044; in Nanton, 1262; Okotoks, 1321; High River 2,125; Pincher Creek, 1,360, Calgary had 14,354 voters and they elected three members.

The wilful shooting of soldiers during Armistice Day parade at Centralia, Wash., by I.W.W.'s, is only a mild imitation of what has occurred and is occurring in Russia today. Canada and the United States must get rid of this element at any cost. They should all cross the divide by the rope route.

Some time ago the Teachers' Alliance in Alberta endeavored to raise the standard of teachers' salaries to $1,200 and it must be stated in their behalf that some recognition is coming the profession. In the case of skilled mechanics and coal miners whose interests are looked after by their unions the teachers have not been receiving due consideration with the natural result there is a great dearth in the school profession throughout the Dominion. At a recent convention of school trustees in Calgary, the question of salaries was discussed, but that is all that was done. The teachers will not be satisfied with this and when the Alliance is complete they will make their demands and compel some action to be taken.

OUR SYSTEM THE BEST

Vice-President Baker of the U.F.A. who has spoken here on several occasions, is reported to have stated that he thought Canada "should adopt a system of government along the lines of those of the United States or France, in which the cabinets do not go to pieces whenever the voters should fail to uphold their party." This is a strange statement to make, in face of the fact that close American constitutional thinkers are discovering the advantage Canada has over the American system. Even Woodrow Wilson has approved of the British system of cabinet responsibility to the elective legislature. In connection with France, we have it on authority that in a period of less than fifty years, since the third French Republic came into existence, some fifty French premiers have been forced to retire because of an adverse vote in the Chamber of Deputies.

INCREASE IN DIVORCES

The number of applications for divorce in the western provinces as a result of the recent decision of the privy council is very large and at first it looked very alarming. However, many of these applications have been held up for some years owing to the expense of the old procedure. Then again, the war conditions have brought about an unusual number of matrimonial troubles everywhere. It is said there are close to 2,000 petitions for dissolution of marriage awaiting a hearing in London alone.

The total wheat yield for the Canadian West this year is four million bushels more than last year, notwithstanding the drought. Another indication that the west is growing.

The town of Okotoks introduced a by-law recently which will be voted on by the ratepayers, to incur the indebtedness on behalf of the town in the sum of $4,000 for the purpose of meeting the cost incurred by the said town for the erection of their skating and curling rink.

MANGE QUARANTINE REGULATIONS DAMAGING CATTLE INDUSTRY SERIOUSLY

Calgary Herald

Declaring that while conditions in southern Alberta are still terribly bad as regards the feed situation, George Lane, well-known rancher today asserted that the Canadian government mange quarantine regulations are doing more damage to the cattle industry "than the hardest winter we ever had."

"I just wish you could have been with me recently in the Chicago yards," said Mr. Lane, "and seen the Canadian cattle when they come in there out of what the government officials call 'mange areas.' They put our Canadian cattle in these quarantine pens and the owners have to take one cent less a pound for them than do the cattlemen with cattle from Montana and Wyoming with the very same kind of cattle."

"Is it the Canadian of the American regulations which require the Canadian cattle to be put in the quarantine pen?" Mr. Lane was asked.

"It is the Canadian regulations which are causing us the trouble," he replied. "They had mange for a little while in Montana and Wyoming, but they cleaned it up. In my opinion there is very little mange in Alberta. Most of the fuss is being made by the mange riders and the mange doctors holding government jobs and drawing government pay."

Asked what remedy he would suggest, Mr. Lane said succinctly:

"Kill off a few of these mange doctors. You can see how it is with the American buyers. If a man tells you there is smallpox in a certain hotel, you aren't going to stop in that hotel, are you?"

With regard to the shortage of cars for shipping out of cattle, Mr. Lane declared he thought the C.P.R. was doing the best it could under the circumstances. He did not agree with complaints that the railway has been favoring P. Burns in shipping in cattle to the Burns yards.

"My son had forty carloads of cattle to ship from Brooks and he could not get cars," said Mr. Lane. "I went down there to look the situation over and found it very bad. He had about 2,000 head that were hit very hard by the storm, even the young horses drifting before it. Five of them were piled up dead in one spot. I also had some cattle that I wanted to ship from Cayley, and I went to the C.P.R. about it today and they explained the situation satisfactorily to me. I think they are doing the best they can and we are waiting until next Monday to ship from Brooks, though we wanted to handle those cattle out of here today."

"But it was the mange quarantine that Mr. Lane had on his mind principally and he insisted that it was doing the cattle industry more harm than anything else. Any of the stockyard men well posted on the situation would say the same thing, he asserted. Mr. Lane, however, did say that the feed situation was very bad."

"There is plenty of feed in the country," he said, "but these fellows who are holding it are asking from $15.00 to $20.00 a ton for the kind of feed that takes three tons to get one animal through the winter. That means that it costs more than you can sell the cattle for next spring. There's only one thing to do, kill them off and I am doing it with all except my breeding stock."

Mr. Lane said the situation has improved slightly throughout the southern area since the recent chinook winds, but that while there would not be so many cattle actually starved to death as at first appeared would be the case, it was still very bad.

HOOK AND LADDER STORY

A painter at work on a water tank at Buhl, Minn., foresaw a catastrophe when a cow began to scratch her back on the bottom of his ladder, and started to come down. That frightened the cow and she ran her horns through the lower rungs of the ladder and started off at a gallop, carrying the ladder, painter, paint and all. The louder he yelled the faster the cow travelled. It was but a short ride for the painter, who struck the ground uninjured, but the cow carried the ladder for a quarter of a mile.

LAWS CONCERNING WOMEN

Mrs. McKinney, member for Claresholm, is not only a very capable and interesting speaker, but she has a journalistic faculty that is very pleasing. In the Farm and Ranch Review, Mrs. McKinney is conducting a page on Alberta laws concerning women, in which she exposes many inconsistencies and silly technicalities that she is anxious to have expunged from the statute books. Here is what she says on "who may not marry":

So much for the manner of consummating marriage, and the restrictions as to age, etc., which come under the province of our legislatures. The power to restrict marriage because of relationship, physical condition, etc. belongs to our federal government.

A schedule has been passed of those who may not marry. Here we find that a man may not marry his grandmother, grandfather's wife, etc., the most of those mentioned not being very likely candidates anyway, until we come to brother's wife, nephew's wife, etc. Now we are taking it for granted that this means brother's widow, nephew's widow. We find also that a woman may not marry her husband's brother, or her husband's nephew, or a niece's husband. In the name of common sense, why? Until 1906 a man might not marry the daughter of his deceased wife's sister, but an amendment was passed that year to make that legal. Some one with "friends at court" must have fallen in love with his deceased wife's sister's daughter. Pray tell me why any man should not marry any woman who is not related to him, always supposing that he wants to and can. Why should a man not marry his wife's grandmother if he wants to? Do you anticipate this becoming popular? If we bar out actual relationships, need we worry over such grotesque situations as this? A man may marry his deceased wife's sister; that is good. But a woman may not marry her deceased husband's brother. Can you imagine any better arrangement than that a man or woman should choose the sister or brother of the first companion? The children of the first marriage would have more than a step-father or a step-mother. It is so eminently fitting that they seldom choose that way.

DISCUSSED SCHOOL FINANCES

At the convention of delegates of the Alberta Union of Municipalities held at Edmonton last week, there was an interesting discussion on our schools and the necessity for increased grants. Mr. Duggan referred to the increase made this year in the payments for educational purposes, amounting to some $400,000 in excess of the previous year. This was not enough; the support of the schools in Alberta was still in a chaotic state, and more than a 7 per cent allowance from the public funds was required. He suggested a means of solving the difficulty, by the Dominion Government setting aside large sums of money for educational work. He claimed this was in order, in view of the foreign speaking population which had been brought to Alberta under Dominion Government auspices. The Dominion too, had control of the natural resources, and a larger part of the revenue therefrom should be available for school purposes. This would not interfere with provincial autonomy. Dominion money was already being granted for agriculture and public health and should be equally available for education.

Mayor Bryan, of Innisfail, told of the high cost of schools in his town. Out of a total tax of 150 mills, the school tax was 90 mills and the burden was too heavy.

Hon. George P. Smith, as minister of education defended the policy of the provincial government in respect to the school system. Almost half a million dollars, he said, had been granted this year in excess of the former rate of government aid, and this, he declared, was as liberal an allowance as could be made. The grants to high schools had been raised from $200 to $300 per room, with an additional $300 per room in consideration of no fees being charged to outside pupils.

"If this is not generous enough to satisfy the people of Alberta," the minister asserted, "the government cannot satisfy them. It looks as though our school bills this year will be $2,000,000, and we cannot go any further at present. The increases already made were 40 per cent in one year."

Mr. Smith went on to recount the main features of the government's new educational program, which included not only the increased grants to high and technical schools but the encouragement of the consolidated school system, the erection of teacher's residences, and an aggressive campaign for more teachers. The great problem, he said, was not in the city but in the rural schools, and the government was disposed to give all possible attention to that problem. A thousand more teachers were needed in Alberta, the minister stated, and it was a matter of national importance that the needed forces for the training of the Alberta youth be secured. The foreigners, he thought, were not a menace, but were proving quick to learn and well deserving of help and sympathy.

JUDGMENT FOR BURNS

The action brought by Roderick McLeay against Patrick Burns has been dismissed by Honorable Mr. Justice Walsh, with costs to the defendant. About $60,000 was involved.

The litigation centres around a sale of the Bar S Ranch, and certain cattle on the Bar S Ranch, and Circle cattle or cattle on the Circle Ranch, both in the province of Alberta. The defendant contended that the contract called for the purchase by the plaintiff of all of the Circle cattle owned by him. The plaintiff's case on the contrary was that the contract only covered such of the Circle cattle as were on the 30th day of January, 1919 grazing on the Circle Ranch.

Mr. Justice Walsh, in the course of an elaborate and lengthy judgment has found that although there was some doubt as to what cattle were included in the plaintiff's offer, there is no doubt that the defendant accepted all the Circle cattle. "It is a rather peculiar thing," says his lordship, "but it is the case that the plaintiff has to go to the defendant's offer to support his view of the contract and the defendant has to go to the plaintiff's acceptance of it to find support for his view of it."

R. B. Bennett, K.C., and A. Macleod Sinclair, K.C., appeared for McLeay and A. H. Clarke, K.C., for Burns.—Calgary Herald.

The "drys" in Ontario will have at least one million majority. Forty-one per cent of that majority are bootleggers and stoolpigeons.

Dr. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture for the Dominion and member for Victoria, says Union Government will hold office for its full term and will carry out all pre-election pledges.

ALDEDSYDE NEWS

Yes, we are missing a certain smiling face of a familiar friend these days and our sympathies do not necessarily have to be put in print to be expressive. We are delighted to report favorably of her progress, having visited the hospital and seen her, for a short time last week. One of our poets seems to have struck our feelings in one of his lines: "They remember me, they miss me, and they pray for me." We cherish the hope that it will not be long before she is safely on the trail that leads to home.

If, as some authority has it, "Life is made up of disappointments," then this fast-disappearing old 1919 has added confirmation to the idea. We refer to the yields of the crops of some of our neighbors who have just threshed recently:

"Keep on sowing when you've missed the crops;
 Keep on faithful till the curtain drops,
 And you'll get there in the morning."

It is this proverbial keep-on-hoping feeling that forever springs eternal in the human breast of the westerner—anyway that enables us to "Keep on singing when the whole world sighs," and we'll get there, if not in the morning, some time later.

Surprises at times are somewhat of a shock to the nervous system, but as far as we could judge, did not have any harmful effects on the genial nature of our friend Miss Ruby Rowland one evening last week. A large number gathered together and had a very jolly time—dancing and other enjoyments. No, it wasn't daylight when some of the guests went home.

"No," said one man to another in this little village the other morning, "it is not an auction sale; all the teams belong to men wanting coal." The coal situation is severe without a doubt, but for a real attempt to remedy matters, and incidentally for real excitement over the business, Aldersyde deserves the biscuit.

We dropped in casually, a few of us, one evening last week and spent one of those informal enjoyable times with Mr. and Mrs. Rumsey that make us realize there's a sun still shining in the sky, even in these droughty times. We had a dance, we had music, we had games, and we had an epicurean lunch pretty late—makes us ponder on Arthur Chapman's poem:

"Out where the smile dwells a little longer;
 Where friendship's grasp is a little stronger;
 Where there's more of singing—less of sighing;
 Where a man makes friends with-out half trying;
 That's where the west begins."

We have had some of those evenings before and we will have them again, whether Mr. and Mrs. Rumsey like it or not—we should worry about the result!

Mr. Tom Eminson, who has been staying with Mr. and Mrs. J. Thompson, left on Tuesday with Mr. Hal Harper for the north in search of land.

Service at both churches next Sunday.

Some things we are wondering:

If one of our popular young ladies is leaving the district before long. We hope not.

At the coolness and courage displayed by two ladies who stopped a walk-away the other day.

If he really is going away soon, and why, and if he's going alone.

MEETING OF SCHOOL TRUSTEES

The Alberta School Trustees' Association met in Calgary last week in convention and reorganized with the object of making it one of the live educational bodies of the province. The representation from this district was very small. At the close of the last day of the convention the question of the minimum salary of teachers in the province was discussed and while nothing was done in that connection, the general opinion was that both the standard of the profession and the salaries of the profession should be raised, but the convention was practically unanimous that a minimum of $1,200 as suggested by the Teachers' Alliance was out of the question at present. It was argued that the fixing of the minimum was starting at the wrong end. All were agreed that the maximum should be raised so as to create a future in the profession, stabilizing it and offering an incentive for the best men and women to enter the profession and stay in it. The rural trustees considered that any legislation fixing the salaries of teachers was in the nature of class legislation. All were agreed that there should be a forward movement along educational lines and that all must expect to pay more in future for the education of their children. The school districts throughout the province will be assessed for the association's upkeep as follows: Rural schools, $1.00; village schools, $2.00; consolidated schools, $5.00; town schools, $10.00 and city schools, $25.00.

U. F. W. A. ADDRESS

There was a good attendance on Saturday last when Mr. B. C. Moore, of High River, gave a very interesting address on the subject "Why Women should be interested in Politics."

At the outset the speaker declared that a woman who stated she was not interested in politics was either very ignorant, criminal or insane, and while admitting this to be a strong statement, proceeded to prove his contention by showing that women were the chief sufferers in the great social strife. He showed this to be the case in the Great War, social upheavals throughout the world; the Winnipeg strike, liquor traffic, prison systems which hardened the criminal, and made criminals out of our children instead of curing and redeeming.

These are a few of the problems that face the people. Are the women going to say: "we are not interested in Politics," or are they going to assume their duties of citizenship? Woman's first interest is the home and the influence she wields there is beyond compute. Someone has truthfully said: "The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world." When the boy and girl goes out into the world, it is the mother's influence that often prevents them falling into disgrace, and if they do fall, it is the good mother's influence that brings the wayward ones back again into useful life. The speaker here referred to the pitiful waste of time spent at "Pink Tens" and rather discouraged it. Continuing, he said the nation is a reflection of the home and as the woman's first interest is there, it is important that every protection possible should be given that home. The country calls upon you to do your utmost to produce clean honorable righteous citizens and yet it does but little to aid and protect you in your efforts. Our statute books contain many inconsistencies which work to your disadvantage and which can only be rectified by your own effort. The marriage laws are not fair to women and boys are given preference over girls with respect to driving automobiles. Even in accident and life policies, the female is barred from certain consideration.

In the courts of our land, a man is considered innocent in the eyes of the law until he is proved guilty, but let a girl who is so unfortunate as to become a mother before she is married, comes into court asking that the father of her babe be forced to assist in the upbringing of that child—she is considered guilty in the eyes of the law until she proves herself innocent of previous misconduct, the result being that very seldom is a girl successful as all that is necessary for the man to produce a comrade who swears he knows of her previous misconduct and the scoundrelly father goes free while the mother must carry the disgrace and burden for the rest of her life. There is much law, but a sad lack of justice, as was evidenced recently in your own community when human animals were turned loose on the public on a technicality, justice being a secondary consideration.

All honor to one of your citizens who had courage enough to defy technicalities in favor of justice.

But some will say, my girl has been well brought up. I have taught her all about life carefully, she will not fall. I'm glad you have, but no one is absolutely safe from certain human snakes. Here the speaker related an incident about Aaron Burr at a college banquet, who wagered that the girl did not live that could withstand his advances. A young lady was named who was prominent in good work in that city, of high social position, of strong character and unquestionable integrity and purity and strength of character. Today a monument marks the spot where she chose and met a suicide's death rather than face the disgrace and dishonor of Burr's villainy. Is your girl absolutely safe? I say no, and the price of purity is eternal vigilance. Do you in the face of these conditions and problems say to me that you are not interested in politics? I repeat again, it is criminal for you to neglect your duties and citizenship. It is your duty to go out into the political world and do your utmost in this great fight for justice and equity to all. Women of High River, your opportunity is great. I believe you will grasp it and if you do, you will begin work here that will be felt throughout the province. The secret to your success is in education. Begin it now. Study the forward movement of the day. You cannot approve or disapprove of any question until you understand it. I doubt if there are a half dozen people in this district that understand the principles of direct legislation. You are referred to as an energetic competent association and as such, I believe you will rise to your opportunities and I wish you every success.

Canada is all right! She raised $673,000,000 for the Victory Loan.

Thoroughly Captured

A man who was wanted by the police had been photographed in six different positions and the pictures sent to the chief of police of a provincial town where it was thought likely the fugitive was hiding. After the lapse of a few days the following reply reached headquarters: "Sir: I duly received the portraits of the six miscreants whose capture is desired. I have arrested five of them, and the sixth is under observation and will be secured shortly."—London Tit-bits.

The chinook that prevailed on Saturday and Sunday caused the heavy coat of snow and frost in the ground to disappear and permitted stock to graze at leisure on the range.
